Nestled in the foothills of Golden, within a quiet corporate business area, is a small public charter school where big things are happening. So far this year, students have flooded Mesopotamia, conducted a myriad of experiments using live crawfish, discovered the contributions of bats to various habitats across the world while conducting research in a class-built cave, written messages in ancient Greek letters, gone fishing for character traits and even learned about how to write a well-developed paragraph using the hamburger technique – through cooking and eating a class-sized hamburger complete with a giant, special-ordered bun. And that's just in ONE of the classes!

Equally amazing things are happening throughout the ten classrooms at Free Horizon Montessori, a public Jeffco Charter School for children in preschool through 6th grade. It was founded in 2002 by a group of parents preferring a public school Montessori option for their children. Free Horizon grew to 270 students by 2008. Parents appreciate the opportunity for individualized learning, the engaging curriculum and the strong community. Students are empowered with internal strength that supports maturation of respectful and responsible behavior for oneself, the environment and others. Beyond compliance with state and country regulations, the school is governed by an elected board of seven parents.

Using state standards as the guide, teachers at Free Horizon spark interest and curiosity so that learning comes alive, propelling students to pursue their education at a deeper level. Walking through the halls at Free Horizon, one can feel the thrill of discovery as students engage in inspired learning. Students enrolled in half day Kindergarten through 6th grade attend free. Tuition for full day Kindergarten, preschool, and before & after school care tuition is consistent with industry standards. Parents may contact Kresta Vuolo with questions and to schedule a visit.
